

Calling All Future Teachers: Scholarships Are Available!

At the USD School of Education, we are dedicated to developing effective and quality teachers. In order to fulfill our mission, we have established and maintained a partnership with the Bush Foundation. Through our collaboration, we have designed programs that will not only provide you with cutting-edge technology and resources, but also valuable networking and in-class experiences. Furthermore, the Foundation sets aside funds each year in order to award several incoming freshmen the Bush Scholarship.

The scholarship is valued at $1,000 each year for four years as long as the candidate maintains eligibility as determined by the School of Education. To compete for this award, admitted incoming teacher education majors must complete the University of South Dakota Online Scholarship Application and answer the additional Bush Foundation Teacher Scholarship essay questions found within the application. The deadline for the application is December 1, 2015.
